FROM TIME TO TIME IT becomes apparent that the written word is a dangerous weapon.

And like most weapons in the hands of well-meaning amateurs, considerable damage can be done unintentionally without even trying.

Look how many people, for example, have been shot by unloaded guns!

As a pro in this word business for more years than we care to admit to, we recognize also that pros often get involved with words that sometimes give the wrong connotation. The interpretation, real or implied, that is given to 'em come back to haunt the writer.

But a professional, most of the time, recognizes the problem that exists and uses his typewriter accordingly.

Words have a habit of jumping back at you like a heart burn.

There have been hundreds of times when, even with our built-in caution based on libel laws, etc., that our emotions instead of good sense have directed the keys of the typewriter.

And we would have loved to have been able to erase what had appeared in print.

But it was too late.

There was really nothing left to do but squirm.

WE WERE REMINDED OF all that during the recent "misunderstanding" that erupted at the city hall with respect to the firemen deciding to unionize.

Now, there is nothing really earth-shaking in this day and age about "going union", if the people concerned figure that's the way to fly, or fight fire.

Unfortunately, the reasons given for this step by the firemen by the "reporter" in the city employee's newsletter set both the hair and teeth on edge of an awful lot of concerned people, including the firemen, the City Council and the fire department top brass.

It seems that the words that were used were somewhat unfortunate because they turned out to be a matter of opinion of one individual.

Or, as was subsequently pointed out, a "gross misinterpretation of statements".

Some guy many, many years ago said that the word was mightier than the sword. (Just one letter ["s"] has to added to "word" to make it "sword".)

But words often cut much deeper than any swords.

But let's get onto other business at hand.

ONE OF THE FRINGE benefits we derive from attending meetings of the City Council and Planning Commission is that a commissioner or a councilman sometimes comes up with a delightful quotable quote.

Of course, most of the time, the comments of the guys may not be worth repeating in a family newspaper.

But there are times - - - -

Quite often, for example, we have quoted remarks made by Thayer Lyons, who holds the city record, we think, of service on the Planning Commission.

Thayer has the native ability of putting complicated matters into focus by using an allegory that is pertinent to the situation and can be understood by almost everyone present.

RIGHT NOW THE PLANNING Commission (the City Council will enter the act eventually) is sweating out the problem of what to do about a landlocked piece of property adjacent to the Winchester Drive-in Theater and owned by the theater people.

The property has no access to a public street, a requisite before apartments can be built

City wins national award

Campbell has again been awarded a Distinguished Achievement Award in the 1969 National Clean-Up Contest, for cities under 25,000 population, according to the announcement made Friday night by Mrs. Jeanette Watson, chairman of the Beautification Committee, at the annual Chamber of Commerce Dinner Dance.

The award was made on the basis of the large scrapbook compiling the community betterment efforts of Campbell, placed in competition with 404 other entries from cities across the nation. The contest is sponsored annually by the National Clean Up - Paint Up - Fix Up Bureau.

In addition, the city's scrapbook entry has also been chosen to be placed on display during the entire 1970 National Congress on Beautification to be held in Washington, D.C., Feb. 22-24.

According to the release from the congress, the contest judges were highly impressed with the close cooperation and outstanding participation shown by the people of Campbell. Civic awareness and pride were created through many successful projects, according to the release which pointed out the "Save Our Park" effort, the home beautification contest, the special trash pick-up, the "Beauty Benefits Business" program and the many youth activities such as the "Mosaic for National Monuments" project of the San Tomas School, were projects counting toward points for the award, which will be made on Feb. 24.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. Courtland Watson flew to the capitol to accept the award on behalf of Campbell, but as yet no plans have been made for a similar trip.

CITIZEN–OF–THE–YEAR--The Rev. W. H. (Ben) Gould, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Campbell for the past nine years, uses a chair for support at the annual Chamber of Commerce installation dinner when he was notified he had been named the citizen-of-the-year for 1969.

Mrs. Jeanette Watson, last year's winner, made the presentation.

The Rev. Gould, a director of the CofC, has been suffering in recent weeks from a severe back strain which had required hospitalization. Unaware that he was to be honored, he planned only to attend Friday's affair for a brief period. He and Mrs. Gould were leaving and were at the door when he was called back to accept the award.

In making the award, Mrs. Watson cited a long list of community achievements for which the Rev. Gould has been responsible, including serving twice as chairman of the Congress for Community Progress.

New gas station request goes to city planners

A proposal that suggests the removal of one gas station on Winchester and the reconstruction of another will be before the Planning Commission next Monday, Feb. 2.

Jortran, Inc., has applied for a use permit for a service station at Winchester and Campbell avenues (the old Chevron station) and in a covering letter, Richfield has indicated that the firm will close the station at Rincon and Winchester, if approval is given for the new station. It is also indicated that the new station would encompass the area now occupied by the "Big Beef" drive-in.

New city hall costs increase

Unless the City Council modifies or eliminates some of the proposed facilities, Campbell's new city hall will cost about $879,200 (an increase of $196,000 since October) because of accelerating construction costs and additions to the original plans, Architect Bill Hedley informed the City Council Monday night.

Final decision on the plans are expected to be made this Saturday, Jan. 31, when the City Council tackles the sticky question of how to build an adequate and acceptable city hall and still stay within hailing distance of the city's budget.

Although there are a number of designs and facilities that yet must be worked out, time is running out for the final word, if the March 1 deadline for submission to bid is to be met, Hedley pointed out.

Hedley, in his presentation Monday, revealed that the basic plan at $29.60 per square foot brought the cost to $664,000 for the 22,344 square foot building.

Site development costs have increased from $56,350 to $69,000.

Hedley specified other increases that have upped the costs. A tile-designed upper roof would be $38,000; a full basement under the council chambers, $44,500; and an additional 2144 square feet of floor space, $63,700.

The architect, however, explained that a number of savings could be developed by not fully completing some of the facilities. He said, for example, $52,000 could be gained in this manner in the public works and police areas.

He pointed out also that the basic reason for suggesting the full basement was that the excavation costs and other factors would make it more economical to do it at the start rather than later.

He felt also that the increase of $13,000 in the site development costs could be reduced considerably and said there were other reductions that were possible, such as only partially completing some sections, that could also result in savings.

At Saturday's study session, which begins at 1 p.m., the Council is expected to resolve the major problems. Basically, it will be to decide how much over the original cost figures it will be safe to go; where will the money come from and what can be cut from the plans with the least amount of pain.

City Manager Bob Stephens indicated that new figures on the city's fiscal situation as it affects the civic center situation will be available on Saturday.

Although most of the councilmen have tacitly ap-

COUNCIL CANDIDATE---Bill Podgorsek, 41, of 860 Virginia Ave., announced this week that he will seek election to the City Council in the April 14 city election. Filing for the position opens tomorrow (Jan. 29).

Podgorsek, a native of Minnesota and a resident of Campbell for the past eight years, is co-owner of a printing concern in San Jose. Active in school and other community affairs, he is vice-chairman of the Parks and Recreation Commission and served as chairman of the successful city park bond issue campaign last June.

In announcing his candidacy, Podgorsek said: "My decision to run for the City Council is based on the primary reason that Mayor Hyde, who, in my opinion, has done an outstanding job in serving his community as councilman, will not seek reelection".

CofC installs officers in traditional event

Neal Royer, outgoing president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce, was named "Ambassador-of-the-Year" at the annual installation dinner dance held Friday night at the Villa Felice.

Royer brought in a total of 16 new members while Al LaPlante, former winner of the Ambassador award for the last three years, was runner-up with a total of 13½ new members.

Bob Bullard, CPA, was installed as new president of the Chamber. Louis Bergna, district attorney, conducted the installation ceremonies. Serving as master of ceremonies for the evening was Ken Mantle, a past president.

Also installed by Bergna, as officers for the new year, were Norm Paul, first vice-president; Al LaPlante, second vice-president; and Bob J. Blonder, treasurer.

New directors include Myron Alexander, Bill Deal, Ed Fabbri, Ed Meszaros, Jim Schafer, Tom State, Dean Vesling and Holly Vollenweider.

RAIN DROPS

Heavy winds in the Campbell area Friday night toppled fences, TV antennas and some tree limbs, but apparently no serious damage was suffered from the heavy rain and wind storm that pelted the area.

Approximately 1.29 inches of rain were deposited during the week, bringing the total rainfall to 9.01 inches. Normal for this time is 8.12, with rainfall this time last year measuring 12.87 inches.

Houses can be offices in some cases - - - BUT

How a residence that is to be converted to office uses can be related in exterior appearance to buildings designed for office purposes, councilmen admitted Monday night was leaving things pretty much up in the air.

But they approved the idea Monday night as a sort of compromise. It will be included in the proposed ordinance that will allow the conversion of residences into offices, subject to a conditional use permit approved by the Planning Commission.

The present ordinance bans all types of residential conversion.

The Council directed staff to prepare the ordinance with the "compromise" after a lengthy discussion on the subject of exterior appearances in which Councilman Ed Rogers and Vice-Mayor Dean Chamberlin took the leading roles on opposite sides.

The proposed ordinance had been recommended by the Planning Commission but at a previous meeting at the suggestion of Rogers, the ordinance was returned to staff to include something about exterior appearances of the converted buildings.

Councilman Rogers maintained that, if there were no such exterior controls, a hodgepodge would result and the city would be back-sliding in its efforts to improve conditions. He admitted he did not favor lifting the ban but if that did happen he wanted the house to look like an office.

Chamberlin claimed that in most cases residences would continue to look like residences unless major structural changes were made which was

Rogers and Miller are now attending San Jose State.

Directing the evening concert will be Clarence Savage. The program is designed for family enjoyment and all Campbell residents and friends are invited to attend.

It's YOUR Park

In an effort to determine what the citizens of Campbell desire as to recreational activities in their community and which should be included in the Rincon Park Development plans, the Parks and Recreation Commission is conducting a survey through the distribution of a questionnaire.

The Campbell Press is cooperating with the Parks and Recreation Commission by publishing the questionnaire and urges the readers of this newspaper to answer the questions and return it to the City Hall, 75 N. Central Ave.

The Campbell Press is pleased to assist in this community project because it is important, in our opinion, to establish a guideline for the park development, based on what the citizens themselves want for and in their community park.

But it must be emphasized that it is YOUR park and your desires, made known by the answers in the survey, which will assist the Parks and Recreation Commission in directing the architect.

The bond issue also provided funds for the development of neighborhood parks in cooperation with the school district and school organizations at certain designated schools in the area.

Although the park bond issue was approved, only enough bonds have been sold to acquire the property and provide for the general plan for the park development.

By the approval of the park bond issue in June of 1969, the citizens of this community indicated firmly that they wanted the community park developed. The bond issue made funds available for the purchase of eight acres adjoining the original park.

No further improvement, of course, can be made until more of the bonds can be sold.

It also should be pointed out that unsold bonds will not be enough to develop the community park to its ultimate.

However, it is extremely important that the citizens of this community make their desires known as to planned and developed.

We repeat, it is YOUR park. And YOUR money.

So we urge you to take the time to answer the questions.

Parks and Recreation Survey

This survey is being conducted to give each interested citizen of the Campbell area a chance to express his desires as to the recreational activities which he feels should be included in the Rincon Park Development plans. The Parks and Recreation Commission is anxious to make this park site one of maximum usage by the greatest number of Campbell residents possible. With this thought in mind, the Campbell Parks and Recreation Commission requests your cooperation in filling out the survey form. Your answers will serve as a guide to the Commission for recommendations to the architect in order to develop the best possible Park for YOUR community.

When answering the questions, please keep in mind that some neighborhood recreational activity will be developed on excess lands held by the Campbell Elementary Schools as authorized by you in the recent park bond election.

on it. But plans for an apartment complex have been approved by the Planning Commission for the parcel. (It is zoned properly.) The theater owners submitted the plans.

The theater people make no bones about it, however. They want to put a third screen on the parcel to tie in with their present two-screen operation.

So they have applied for a zone change and a use permit for that also.

Mind you, the apartment complex has already been approved with the proviso that access to a public street be provided with no cost to the city.

The requests are all perfectly legal and are being presented by one of the top-notch attorneys in the county who, by the way, brings a stenotypist with him at the commission meetings to take down every single word of the action.

Or no action, as the case might be.

So, you see, to coin a phrase, the plot thickens.

Or to put it another way, it gets pretty sticky.

OBVIOUSLY, THERE can't be a third screen and an apartment complex on the same piece of property.

But we started out to tell you how Thayer summed it up.

He commented that he was aware that Michael DiLeonardo, the attorney for Syufy Enterprises, had been "weaving a web" in his presentations.

But, Thayer added, he didn't know what he could do about it.

"I feel," he said, "like I'm armed with a pea-shooter and I'm faced by a double-barreled shotgun."

Next question.

BECAUSE OF OUR PROfession, we have probably been exposed to the activities that take place in the City Council chambers more than any one person in town.

We make an effort to "cover" the activities of both the City Council and the Planning Commission regularly. We are not bragging.

It just happens to be, in our opinion, an important function of a community newspaper.

Anyway, to put it bluntly, we have sat through innumerable council and commission meetings, often bored to death but trying not to show it while attempting to do some constructive thinking, if possible.

Now we learn we should have counted the stars in the American flag that has been displayed for so long on the wall behind the chairs of the city brass.

But members of the newly-formed Youth Advisory Commission have counted 'em.

The flag only has 48 stars.

The young people took action.

In a memo to the City Council, the city's newest advisory body has suggested that a more modern flag be obtained.

One, for example, that has 50 stars.

EACH YEAR WHEN THE city adopts the pay and classification plan for the city employees, The Press reports the action and generally lists the salaries of the top management personnel.

There are more than 100 people on the staff of the City at present and it is classified as "big business", at least in our book.

Quite naturally there are many members of the city family who feel that what dough they make is their own business and should not be aired quite so publicly.

"How would you like to have your own salary scrutinized so openly?" they have asked us.

We really wouldn't mind to reveal our personal income, if only for a comparison basis. However, it does point up the fact that there is a difference between public and private enterprise. People who work for a public agency, no matter what job they hold, are exposed to public gaze and examination, both for the job they do and for the money they make.

You see it's the public that foots the bill.

HAS YOUR DOG POSED for a cute picture lately? Or have you a dog that is an outstanding or unusual breed?

Or, for that matter, is your dog such a mixture of breeds that, in itself, is unusual?

Or has your dog done something outstanding recently?

Anyway, The Press would like to hear about it. With pictures.

Give us a buzz or a bark.

-0-

THE ANNUAL PROGress edition of The Press is scheduled to make its appearance on Feb. 25...The theme this year is "1970, a year of achievement".

Although we are always proud as punch when the edition finally makes the grade, admittedly it is quite a task and plenty of cooperation is needed.

We would like to recognize achievements of various organizations of the community, shopping centers, industrial firms and the whole ball of wax that makes up the community.

But we need your help.

It is sort of an opportunity to "point with pride" and we invite all of you to get into the act with us.

It will be sort of fun.

But you have to get going right now.

That darn date (Feb. 25) is closer than we like to think about.

Doherty instruct MAEP courses in management

One of the many adult education teachers who have been recruited from local industry to teach spring classes is Richard Doherty of Campbell.

Doherty, a graduate of local schools, received his M.A. from University of Santa Clara and is employed as a corporate training administrator.

This is his second year with Metropolitan Adult Education Program's business department which offers some 70 nine-week courses in management, marketing and merchandising subjects.

"Small Business Operation" and "Business Problem Solving" will be taught by Doherty. Both will be given at Camden High School.

Monday evenings from 7-10 p.m., "Small Business Operation" will be geared to the small businessman or person contemplating operating their own company.

"Business Problem Solving" is a Thursday night class which shows how scientific principles can be applied to find solutions to problems, business or personal.

Registration fee for courses is $1.50 for an unlimited number of classes. Some adult classes also have additional laboratory or materials fees. For information on registration, call 379-8550.

VANIA GONDIM

Student from Brazil attends Camden High

Vania Lessa Gondim, 18-year-old resident of Belo Horizonte, Brazil, is spending a year in the Campbell area as a member of the American Field Service student exchange program. She has been in this area for four months and is making her home with Mr. and Mrs. George Talley of 3220 Jade Ave.

During this year, Vania is attending Blackford High School as a senior, and is carrying a heavy course of literature, history and English. At the end of the school year she will return home to study for her university entrance examination. Mrs. Talley reports that Vania speaks English very well and has adjusted rapidly to her new surroundings.

Vania states that she is amazed at the amount of prepackaged foods in our supermarkets and feels that our food in general is richer than in Brazil. She also reports that her home town is warmer than Campbell.

The Talleys have already taken her on a tour of San Francisco, Monterey, Carmel, Big Basin and the State Capitol. They plan to take her up to the snow this winter because she has never been in snow.

The Talleys have five children of their own at home: Randall, a fourth year student at San Jose State; Erica, a beautician in Campbell; Alison, a senior and cheerleader at Blackford High; Trina, a sophomore at Blackford High; and Francine attending Lynhaven Elementary School.

Talley is employed by the engineering firm of Ruth and Going of San Jose and Mrs. Talley maintains the home for her family.

Vania is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ary Gondim De Oliveira of Belo Horizonte, Brazil. She has an older brother and two younger sisters waiting at home.

VFW posts honor Ward Pinther for community work

In a singular ceremony Saturday, Ward Pinther, owner of the Straw Hat Pizza, 1400 W. Campbell Ave., was honored for his outstanding community work with the Veterans of Foreign War youth program.

A beautiful plaque was presented to Pinther by the V.F.W. Posts 344 of San Jose and 6305 of Campbell for his work during the 1969 V.F.W. "Lite-A-Bike" program.

Pinther offered the use of his Straw Hat facilities and parking lot for the program which was carried out in the Moreland School district. A total of 381 bicycles were inspected and three red reflective tapes were applied to the rear fender, white was taped on each front fork and two on the handlebars.

The reflective tapes can be seen at night from a distance of 1500 feet, and several million bikes have been decaled by the V.F.W. posts across the country.

Flyers were distributed throughout the Moreland District schools advertising the decal program and Pinther offered a free coke to all children bringing in their bikes.

Other community activities in which Pinther was involved during the year included sponsorship of six Little League teams; Pop Warner football league contribution and manager of the Gold Beret Team; sponsorship of women's bowling, softball and volleyball teams; contributions to the Santa Clara-Saratoga Women's Hiking Club, and recognition of the "Player-of-the-Week" in all Campbell District high schools.

Pinther is also a part of the Army Reserve Officer Program and received the U.S. Navy recruiting service award in 1967.

Stop smoking clinic starts

A five-day clinic to stop smoking will be offered starting Feb. 9 by the West Valley College. The course received such a large response in October that a second course was scheduled.

The clinic consists of five consecutive group-therapy sessions consisting of lectures or discussions by a counselor-physician team on the physiological as well as psychological aspects on the body and mind, demonstration of procedures helpful in overcoming the smoking habit and exchanges of experiences.

Participants in the course will also be instructed in how to relax, how to avoid familiar spots or activities that might lead to smoking, when to exercise and how to breathe, what to eat and drink and even what to think.

Registration for the class must be made through the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, Room L-26. Applications will be taken on a first-come, first-served basis. The clinic is sponsored by the college and the Central California Conference of Seventh Day Adventists.

FLOOD SILT

Scientists estimate that the equivalent of 125,000 160-acre farms move down the rivers of North America every 12 months in the form of silt.

Prospect Pulse

by IVALEE INGRAHAM

Prospect's Varsity dribblers won another game last Friday, when they beat Los Gatos 73-67. Senior Dave Knutson made a record-breaking 11 baskets and nine free throws, for a grand total of 31 points for the Panthers. This is a team record.

All groups of the Music Department are busily preparing for Prospect's First Annual Pop's Concert, to be held Thursday and Friday of this week. The orchestra, advanced band, intermediate band, a capella choir, girls' glee club and mixed chorus will be performing, along with the Pink Panther Drill Team, the Flag Girls and the Majorettes.

A Pop's Concert is different from a regular concert, in that the audience sits at tables and can buy cake, coffee and punch to eat and drink while watching.

The theme this year is "Memory Makers", and the tables and cafeteria will be decorated to this theme. Everyone is invited to come.

Tickets are $1 for adults and 50¢ for students. "Memory Makers" starts at 8 p.m. both nights.

"Daiquiri Ice" is the theme for the PTA dance being held on Jan. 31 at Prospect. The PTA urges everyone to attend. Starting time is 8 in the cafeteria.

Parts in the All-School Play have been cast and rehearsals started last week for "Thieve's Carnival". Leading roles went to Liz Rao, Lady Hurf; Kathie Brown, Eva; Laura Aronson, Juliette; Steve Gray, Lord Edgard; Ed Cotter, Hector; Steve Yaste, Peterbono; Howie Demere, Gustave; Mike Menicucci, Dupont-Dufort Sr.; and Wally Gilbert, Dupont-Dufort, Jr.

Final services for Mrs. Stanford

GERTRUDE A. STANFORD

Funeral services will be held today (Wed., Jan. 28), for Mrs. Gertrude A. Stanford, 95, who passed away Jan. 26 at the Plum Tree Convalescent Hospital where she had been confined for the last five months.

Mrs. Stanford had made her home on North Central Ave. before going to the convalescent home. A keen observer of the civic scene she could always be counted on for appropriate comments and appearances at park dedications and other public functions.

A native of Hartford, Kansas, she was married June 16, 1917, in Campbell to Walter Stanford, who passed away in 1933. Following his death she resided in Oakland for several years before returning to Campbell to make her home.

She was a member of the Congregational Church of Campbell, and recently was honored at the church on the occasion of her 91st birthday. A Gertrude Stanford Day in the city of Campbell was proclaimed on Aug. 1, 1969, in recognition of her 95th birthday, on which occasion birthday greetings were received from President Richard Nixon.

At the time of her passing Mrs. Stanford had compiled a history of the Campbell Roosevelt Tree, formerly located on the corner of Campbell and Winchester Ave. which was planted by President Theodore Roosevelt on the occasion of his visit to Campbell.

Survivors include two sons, Jack W. Stanford of Stockton and Richard W. Stanford of Lafayette, and five grandchildren.

Services will be held from the Campbell Memorial Chapel with the Rev. Anthony Wayne Myers of the Congregational Church of Campbell and the Rev. Corwin H. Olds, pastor emeritus of the church, officiating. Final interment will be in the Los Gatos Memorial Park.

BRYAN WILLIS

Final services were held Friday for the Rev. Bryan C. Willis, pastor of the Bible Baptist Mission, 1990 Fruitdale Ave. in Campbell.

Rev. Willis, 62, passed away suddenly Jan. 20. He was also employed as an assembler in the Ford Motor Co. plant and made his home in Los Gatos.

Services were under the auspices of the Darling-Fischer and Faber's Chapel of the Hills in Los Gatos with final interment in the Los Gatos Memorial Park.

Meredith Willson schedules Feb. 20 show at West Valley

The "Music Man" himself, Meredith Willson, will appear in a one-night show at West Valley College Feb. 20.

Willson, whose musical comedies have played to packed houses on Broadway and on tour, will present a program called "An Evening with Meredith Willson." A musicalecture that has won much acclaim all across the country, his entertaining presentation is spiced with genial humor, refreshing comment and good music.

He has won a nationwide audience for his musical compositions, his orchestral conducting and his humorous philosophy and writings. When "The Music Man" opened on Broadway late in 1957, he added musical comedy to his long string of accomplishments and the critics predicted his show would "run for a decade."

Broadway was equally enthralled by Willson's second musical, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," (about a famous Colorado heiress who survived the Titanic disaster) which also saw a long run, eventually becoming a movie with Debbie Reynolds.

A third musical, "Here's Love," based on the movie, "Miracle on 34th Street," continued his record of turning out hit Broadway shows.

His hit songs during the years include "You and I," "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," "76 Trombones," "Till There Was You," and "I Ain't Down Yet."

Willson's appearance at the Campbell campus auditorium is sponsored by the Office of Community Services. Tickets for the 8 p.m. performance may be obtained through that office, located at 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26, 379-1733, ext. 58.

The evening promises to be a repeat of Willson's standing ovation appearance at the college three years ago; "a sparkling, refreshing musical treat that is bound to send all audiences whistling their way homeward with the kind of warm, friendly glow only Willson can impart."

"Walk in Dignity" will be topic for lecture at college Feb. 5

--college speaker

The struggle of the black man for identity is "primarily a self-help movement, based on stressing economic and educational development for black people."

This is the essential philosophy of Donald Warden, Phi Beta Kappa, attorney, author, radio and television personality. Warden will deliver a lecture on "Walk in Dignity" at West Valley College Feb. 5.

Born in Pittsburgh, Penn., Warden's childhood was rough. Warden has said, "We were a poor family, no question about that - but my father was a very strong, very proud individual. He refused to accept welfare."

Warden was able to enter Howard University in Washington, D.C., and during his junior year traveled to India. A meeting with Prime Minister Nehru stunned him, leaving him with some highly disturbing ideas of what non-black people thought of the American Negro.

"He indicated," Warden says, "that he had very little respect for Negroes. He felt that the so-called American Negro hadn't contributed as much to the world as Africans had." Why, Warden wanted to know, should a distinction be made between the Negro and African, when they were, essentially, one and the same?

The whole problem, he concluded, was one of identity for the Negro.

Complimentary tickets for the 8 p.m. lecture by Warden in the Campbell campus auditorium may be obtained through the Office of Community Services, 44 E. Latimer Ave., Campbell, room L-26. Further information may be obtained by calling that office at 379-1733, ext 58.

Surprise reception honors couple

MR. AND MRS. HENRY BATIS---now and 25 years ago.

Camp LeJeune, North Carolina, was the scene twenty-five years ago when marriage vows were exchanged between Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Batis. At that time both young people were members of the United States Marine Corps and were both stationed in the North Carolina barracks.

On January 10 a surprise reception was held for the anniversary couple at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bring, 426 Sunberry Dr. in Campbell.

Lovely silver and white bells decorated the home with long white ribbons hanging from them, creating a festive atmosphere which was centered around the large decorated cake. On the refreshment table was a picture of the bride and groom taken 25 years ago in their Marine uniforms.

For the occasion Mrs. Batis wore a navy blue with red trim wool knit dress on which was pinned a lovely orchid corsage.

Forty-five guests gathered to congratulate the Batis' on the occasion. Hostesses were Mrs. Donna Lawson and Miss Denise Batis, the couple's two daughters, their son, Jan, and a friend, Roselie Sotelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Batis have made their home in Campbell at 1629 Calado Ct. for the last 11 years. Batis is in consumer relations for Bidou Bakery of San Jose.

Special guests at the reception included Mrs. Laura Batis, Henry's mother from San Francisco and their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Gene McGee of South San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Darrenougue of San Mateo.

Assembly president visits Lodge Feb. 3

Seafoam green and silver will be the colors used to decorate the Campbell Odd Fellows Temple next Tuesday evening, Feb. 3, when Mrs. William Valenzuela, California Rebekah Assembly president, will pay her first official visit of the 1970 season to the Ada Rebekah Lodge No. 223.

The decor will be enhanced with diamonds and snowflakes, as being the colors and accessories chosen by Mrs. Valenzuela for her year's term as president. Mrs. Valenzuela will tour the state of California during her year visiting the various lodges and coordinating the lodge program. She has previously served as warden and vice-president in the state assembly.

Hostesses for the evening will be the Past Noble Grands Club of the local lodge. Entertainment will include a solo by Mrs. DuBois Rhine. The official meeting at 8 p.m. will be preceded by a 6:30 p.m. potluck dinner with lodge members bringing dishes to complement the menu and their own table service. # Mrs. Wilson chooses gold mission bells for O. E. S. installation decor

NEW O.E.S. OFFICERS---Mrs. Mary F. Wilson and Leslie Titus, newly installed worthy matron and worthy patron of Campbell Chapter No. 553, Order of Eastern Star, before the lovely mission scene.

Mrs. Mary Wilson, Worthy Matron elect of the Campbell Chapter, Order of Eastern Star Chapter 553, chose a beautiful gold brocade dress for her installation ceremonies held recently in the First United Methodist Church of Campbell fellowship hall.

Chosen for her carrying piece was a gold mission bell centered with three orchid streamers of purple and pink. Her ensemble was accented with a lovely orchid corsage.

For the twenty-sixth installation of new officers, a beautiful mission scene centered with a large gold mission bell in the east, was constructed by Clark Iverson and Clark Fitch. The mission gold, violet and harbor green colors were carried out in the hall decor.

Mrs. Wilson was escorted to the altar by Mrs. Ed Fritts, marshal, and Mrs. Cathy Jesky, honorary marshal, and the installation vows were given by Mrs. Ruth Crowther, past matron and the mother of Mrs. Wilson.

Installed as worthy patron by Glen Seigner was Leslie Titus. Mrs. Karol Lake, Jr., past matron and Glen Seigner, past patron, installed the other officers including Mesdames Ruby Kennon, secretary; Katherine Atkinson, treasurer; Thelma Fitch, conductress; Erma Thompson, associated conductress; Irma Keiser, marshal; and Clark Iverson, chaplain; Mrs. Laura DuBorg, organist; Ruth Harry, warder and Henry Rosendale, sentinel.

Mrs. Virginia Ferrick, associate matron elect, was installed by Mrs. Florence Barnickol, past matron with Ted Keech, past patron, installing John Ferrick as associate worthy patron elect.

Carrying pieces of gold bells with violet centerpieces and violet and green streamers were carried by the officers with boutonnieres in the same colors for the men.

Mrs. Bernice Rabehl, carrying the Bible, was escorted by Mrs. Justine Wilson, daughter of the worthy matron. The flag, escorted by the DeMolay boys, was carried by Wilbur Mitchell.

The emblematic star points, installed by Mrs. Karol Lake, were filled by Mesdames Frances Lawson, Adah; Dolores Scoggin, Ruth; Marion Rosendale, Esther; Alice Kelch, Martha and Mitzi Volkey, Electa.

Members of the Jobs Daughters were in charge of the guest books while the programs were handled by Miss Sandra Kemp and Miss Jean Perry of Rainbow Girls. Ushering were Clark Fitch and Morris Waxman.

Following the closing drill refreshments were served and a social hour enjoyed.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Coal miners who are totally disabled by Black Lung Disease, and the widows and dependent children of miners who died with this disease, may now apply for benefits under the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act, at any Social Security Office, according to Lee R. Christensen, Social Security District Manager at San Jose.

"The important thing right now is for every eligible person to make an application to avoid possible loss of benefits; if a claimant is found eligible, benefit payments will be retroactive to the date of filing an application. Actual payment of benefits under the new law cannot begin right away," Christensen stated. "These are not social security benefits, and before payments can begin, Congress will need to appropriate money for them."

The amount of the benefit is about $136 per month for the disabled miner or widow, and a maximum of about $272 a month for a family with three or more dependents. The application for benefits may be mailed to any Social Security Office if a personal visit is inconvenient.

Anyone who wants to apply by mail should be sure to state that he is applying for benefits for himself and his family under the Federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act, and give the name and the social security number (if it is available) of the coal miner. The applicant should give his own full address and his telephone number, if he can be reached by telephone. He should be sure to sign the letter. Christensen emphasized. The address of the San Jose Social Security Office is 500 South First Street and the telephone number is 286-2525.

New county food stamp program starts Feb. 1

Santa Clara County's Food Stamp Program will be liberalized as of Feb. 1, according to Frederick B. Gillette, County Social Services Director.

Along with the 31 other participating counties, Santa Clara's new program revisions are expected to benefit thousands of low-income families.

The new purchase rules mean that eligible families and households will be spending not more than 30% of their income for food stamps. It also sets up the same total amount of stamps available to households of the same size.

Gillette says the previous Food Stamp minimum purchase rules have been too high to permit low-income families to truly benefit from the program. The new standards hopefully will ease this problem.

All eligible four - person households will receive $106 worth of stamps, but their payments will vary according to net income available to the family after deduction of some expenses.

A person living alone on Old Age Security Assistance will pay from $1 to $18 for $28 worth of food stamps. Previously, such people received $26 worth of stamps for $20.

A two-person household of Old Age Security recipients will pay from $2 to $36 for $56 in food stamps depending on the living situation, instead of $40 for $52 worth of food stamps. A mother of two children receiving the maximum welfare grant of $172 per month would pay approximately $24 and receive $84 in food stamp coupons.

Last week when the Second Session of the 91st Congress began its deliberations, cloakroom conversations gave a pretty clear idea of what can be expected of the new session.

Unlike last year when newly inaugurated President Nixon and the Democratic Congress were sizing each other up, the new session starts in an election year and a political atmosphere. As contrasted with the slow beginning Congress made last year when only one-third of presidential requests were acted upon, the new session should produce early and significant action.

Carry-over proposals awaiting consideration include President Nixon's welfare reform bill, a crime bill, revenue sharing, draft reform, consumer protection, manpower training and postal reform. In addition a year's time and a changed mood of the American people have escalated two carry-over issues to crisis proportions. These are inflation and the pollution of our environment.

Despite President Nixon's efforts to control inflation, the problem is more acute than it was a year ago. If wage and price controls are to be avoided as a last ditch device to cool off rising consumer prices, then it is imperative that we come up with a budget surplus and avoid another deficit.

Since the President has apparently given up the idea of imposing new excise taxes to balance the budget, it is obvious that substantial cuts must be made in government spending despite pressures for increases.

The most likely candidate for reduction is the Defense budget which has been reduced in the past year by more than $5 billion. Personally, I believe major cuts can be made by withdrawing troops from Europe and bringing more G.I.'s home from Southeast Asia. Since personnel represents the major share of the Defense budget, meaningful reductions in this area can be made without degrading the quality or modernity of our arsenal.

In the months ahead some Americans will insist that new weapons systems be postponed. Undoubtedly some of them can be. But we must not forget that considering the complexity of modern weaponry the free world will never again have the time in a national crisis to build up its arsenal from a denuded position as it did in World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict.

The fine line between military sufficiency and wasteful spending must be carefully walked. Doing so will require statesmanship of the highest order.

But, as the President said in his State of the Union message, some areas of federal activity must be increased instead of cut. After too many years of complacency, there is an awakening regarding what man is doing to the world in which he lives. The time has come when large federal expenditures in areas which show promise of controlling pollution simply must be made.

Thus, next to peace, the two overpowering issues of the year will be: How to control inflation and how to clean up our environment. I sincerely hope that Congress will meet its responsibility in these areas.

A GOOD TIP---Joe Gallagher (45), of West Valley College, in the above photo is losing the tip to a Contra Costa College player. But West Valley won the game 84-83 when this same Gallagher dropped in a basket in the last second of play. Other Vikings in the photo are Mike Berch (42) and Steve Gera.

West Valley with its win over Contra Costa (two weeks ago) went into first place in the Camino Norte Conference but was dumped from the perch last week by the DeAnza Dons 104-92.

The Vikings battle Skyline College this Saturday night at San Bruno. In the DeAnza battle, the two teams were even at 49-49 at the end of the first half but DeAnza warmed up in the second half.

Gallagher and Gera, pictured above, have been the leading point-getters for West Valley. Gallagher boasts a 25.2 conference average and 16.7 for the season. Gera has a 15.5 conference average and 16.6 average for the season and is rated the team's top passer.

not the purpose of the proposed ordinance.

The Council on Monday night also directed staff to further study the proposed ordinance relating to backyard burning which is now banned by the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

Fire Marshal Gene Borden said that the fire department was primarily interested in the approval of the types of incinerators that are allowed. He also reviewed what had occurred locally since the backyard ban went into effect in Campbell and other cities affected.

The Campbell department has responded to three com~~plaints since the ban went inot~~ plaints since the ban went into effect, Borden said.

The proposed ordinance for the city would also make city regulations comply with the BAAPCD edict.

Councilman Bill Smeed took exception to the "do nothing" attitude that was indicated by some. He maintained that a state law required the same type of enforcement as any city ordinance.

In another somewhat complicated action affecting a present city ordinance, the Council set Feb. 9 as the time to finally decide what to do about the non-exclusive city franchise ordinance affecting cable television operators.

A franchise was granted San Jose Cable TV two years ago and at the present time Santa Clara County Cable TV is also seeking a franchise. In a related matter, the Council Monday approved the cable TV franchise ordinance raising the franchise fee from 2% to 5%.

By resolution the Council on Monday officially called the city election for April 14 had established the precincts for the election.

The Council also somewhat reluctantly approved payment of $11,506.87 from the general fund for items not allowed to be paid from gas tax funds by State ruling in the improvement of Winchester Blvd.

Letters to the Editor

THEATER COSTS

Editor of the Campbell Press:

This letter is being written in part as a complaint against the skyrocketing prices at the Campbell Plaza Theaters, particularly the cost of admissions for the children's Saturday afternoon matinees, which have doubled in the last year from fifty cents to one dollar.

It would seem that the children of our community are bearing the brunt of the cost of the new Campbell Plaza Theater II.

Our children have greatly enjoyed attending the movies on Saturdays at this theater; however, with the continued price rise and the extremely high cost of foodstuffs within the theater, we feel we must boycott further patronage.

Our neighboring city of Los Gatos offers excellent movies, while maintaining their same cost of fifty cents per child even during these inflationary times, and we find it desirable at this point to drive the extra distance to transport our children to the Los Gatos Theater (and would advise other parents to do the same unless the managers of our city's two new theaters can think a little less of their own personal profit and a little more of the children of our community.)

We may be unaware of items (besides the addition of a new theater across the street) which have boosted costs at our local, once reasonable, theater; but we cannot help but believe that the pursuit of the almighty dollar is the prime reason, and we feel it is a shame when it comes at the expense of the children in a fine community; many of whom earn their own money to pay their admission into the theater on Saturdays.

Voters question school board candidates in meeting series

Campbell Union School District voters will be able to meet the eight candidates for the current board vacancy that will be filled at the Tuesday, Feb. 17, election, at a series of meetings scheduled by the school district board.

Tonight, Wed., Jan. 28, at 7:30 p.m. at Rosemary School, voters from the Campbell, Hazelwood and Hamilton school areas will be invited to attend the first of the series.

A second meeting is scheduled for Feb. 5 at Blackford School for Dover and Sherman Oaks school areas and on Feb. 10, Quito, Forest Hill, San Tomas, Capri and Marshall Lane residents will meet at Rolling Hills School for the third meeting.

Moderators will be provided for the meetings to permit candidates to speak on equal terms and questions will be accepted from the audience.

A vacancy on the board was created by the resignation of William Parton.

Candidates for the vacancy include George Talley, 3220 Jade Ave., San Jose; David Dinno, 259 Old Adobe Rd., Los Gatos; Thomas Kelley, 1118 Rickenbacker St., San Jose; Richard MacQuiddy, 38 Decorah Lane, Campbell; Robert Mezzetti, 2386 Donner Place, Santa Clara; Robert Murphy, 1920 Patio Dr., San Jose; Mrs. Judy Ruscigno, 1516 San Gabriel Way, San Jose, and Frank Weis, 15270 Elm Park Ct., Monte Sereno.

Campbell gets $15,284 in auto fees from state

California's cities and counties have shared $19,242,629 in the first apportionment of motor vehicle license fees for Fiscal Year 1969-70, according to State Controller Houston I. Flournoy.

Campbell's share of this initial 1969-70 appropriation was $15,284.75 with the county getting $508,313.25.

Covering the six-month period ending last Nov. 30, the money was divided evenly between cities and counties with distribution among individual cities and counties proportionate to population. The allocation represented slightly over 63 cents for each city resident, and almost 50 cents for each county resident, Flournoy said.

This was the first of three apportionments to be made during the 1969-70 fiscal year, the Controller said. Apportionments next April and June will be larger since the bulk of the fees are collected during January and February of each year.

The State excise tax at the rate of $2 per $100 of market value takes the place of local property tax on motor vehicles. The money is returned to local governments except for that portion withheld to cover administrative costs.

Point Reyes National Seashore offers scenic view plus hiking

One of California's finest natural recreation areas lies just north of the Bay Area. It is the Point Reyes National Seashore and it offers some of the best hiking trails to be found anywhere coupled with magnificent views of the ocean, sand dunes and rugged seashore.

The best way to explore Point Reyes is on foot, taking off along one of several trails that begin at the headquarters just a mile west of Olema. The CSAA says that the Bear Valley Trail is the most popular hiking route. It is 4.4 miles from the trailhead to the coast and is fairly level and easy to walk.

Taking off from the Bear Valley Trail are several others– the Meadow Trail, Old Pine Trail and Baldy Trail. These are steeper but lead eventually to an overlook above the ocean.

The sky trail leads to Mt. Wittenburg, the highest point in the Pt. Reyes National Seashore. This trail leads all the way down to the coast where the hiker can pick up the Bear Valley Trail for the walk back to park headquarters. Total length of this loop trip is 11 miles and makes an ideal one-day hike for experienced hikers.

A good plan is to get started early in the morning. This gives you time to explore the beaches, have lunch either along the coast or from a hilltop overlooking the ocean and still get back to your car before night comes.

A few tips on hiking: Beware of the poison oak and don't venture too close to the cliff edges. Also be mindful of the tides. Although the tide action is slow, you can be trapped on a beach along the cliffs that might be submerged at high tide.

There are three back-pack camps where you can stay overnight. These are Sky Camp, Coast Camp and Glen Camp; each contains 12 campsites complete with picnic tables and fireplaces. Fresh water and toilet facilities are also provided.

Interm zoning

An interim zoning for the civic-center area was put into effect by the City Council on Monday night by an emergency ordinance which requires a use permit for any new building proposed for the area designated.

The "civic center area" extends on E. Campbell Ave. from the railroad tracks to N. Second St., thence on Second St. to Latimer. It follows Latimer to Harrison and up Harrison to Salmar and then along the railroad tracks to Campbell Ave.

Gets pay hike

City Manager Bob Stephens on Monday night received a pat-on-the-back, a commendation for his performance during the last six years and a 7.6% increase in pay from the City Council.

The Council raised the city manager's salary effective Jan. 1, 1970, to $1900 per month from $1765 last year or an annual salary of $22,800 compared to $21,180 in 1969.

Local service groups discuss alliance plans

Twenty-five representatives of Campbell service groups attended the first organizational meeting of a proposed service alliance program last Wednesday and will meet again on Wednesday, Feb. 11.

They discussed whether or not the groups wanted or needed to unite and if they needed to unite and, if they should unite, what they would propose as common goals.

In an informal discussion many of the participants discovered that there was much to learn about the activities of some participants and the needs of others.

Most people agreed that there would be a great potential for a cooperative group, if there was unanimous participation of all service groups and if they could agree on a basic program.

– A second meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. in the Council Chambers at 75 North Central Ave.

Wheels almost taken from car

How would you feel if you went to the movie and came out to find your new car jacked up and the lugs on the rear wheels loosened? That was the experience that Robert Beardsley of San Jose had Friday evening when he attended the new PruneYard theater, corner Campbell and Bascom.

After enjoying the show he found his 1970 Chevrolet El Camino jacked up where apparently thieves were frightened off before completing the removal of his two rear wheels.

However, they did make off with the tape deck, case and spare tire before leaving the scene.

Brass outside faucets valued at $825.80 were removed from the F & W Plumbing Co., 200 Cristich Lane by a thief who cut the fence with bolt cutters and entered the storage area Monday night.

And apparently a burglar got tired during the night and quit before completing entry into the Campbell Liquor and Sporting Goods Store, 200 E. Campbell Ave. Joe Cefalu found debris and sawdust on the floor of the storage room, and investigation revealed 11 holes bored in the roof of the building, eight of them all the way through.
